THE ANSWER

by Rudyard Kipling

A Rose, in tatters on the garden path,
 Cried out to God and murmured 'gainst His Wrath,
 Because a sudden wind at twilight's hush
 Had snapped her stem alone of all the bush.
 And God, Who hears both sun-dried dust and sun,
 Had pity, whispering to that luckless one,
 "Sister, in that thou sayest We did not well --
 What voices heardst thou when thy petals fell?"
 And the Rose answered, "In that evil hour
 A voice said, 'Father, wherefore falls the flower?
 For lo, the very gossamers are still.'
 And a voice answered, 'Son, by Allah's will!'"

Then softly as a rain-mist on the sward,
 Came to the Rose the Answer of the Lord:
 "Sister, before We smote the dark in twain,
 Ere yet the stars saw one another plain,
 Time, Tide, and Space, We bound unto the task
 That thou shouldst fall, and such an one should ask."
 Whereat the withered flower, all content,
 Died as they die whose days are innocent;
 While he who questioned why the flower fell
 Caught hold of God and saved his soul from Hell.

* Joseph Rudyard Kipling (30 December 1865 – 18 January 1936) was an English short-story writer, poet, and novelist. He is chiefly remembered for his tales and poems of British soldiers in India and his tales for children. He was born in Bombay, in the Bombay Presidency of British India, and was taken by his family to England when he was five years old. Kipling is best known for his works of fiction, including The Jungle Book (a collection of stories, which includes and his poems, including "Mandalay" (1890), "Gunga Din" (1890), "The Gods of the Copybook Headings" (1919), "The White Man's Burden" (1899), and "If—" (1910). He is regarded as a major "innovator in the art of the short story"; his children's books are enduring classics of children's literature; and his best works are said to exhibit "a versatile and luminous narrative gift".
